LEAVE NO TRACE

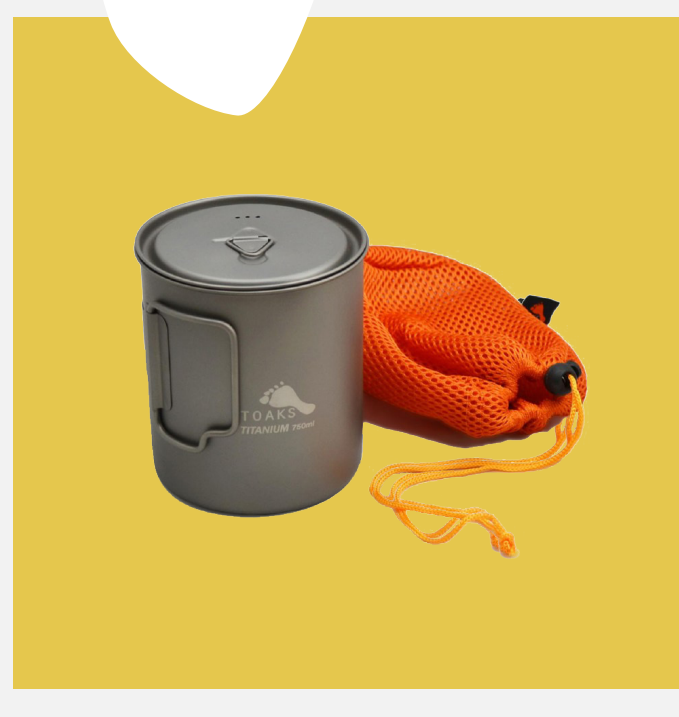

Better travelers = better stories

This summer, let's raise the standard by reducing our impact on the environment and communities we visit.

No matter your adventure style, REI has the tools you need to practice Leave No Trace. Together, we're not just preserving the Earth's wonders—we're getting to know them more personally than ever before.

Reuse, reuse, reuse

Suspect water. Sun exposure. Limited power. Some of the most amazing places on the planet tempt us to use the disposables we avoid at home, just to stay safe. But these reusable alternatives will keep you AND the environment protected.

A movement for ethical adventure

The most awesome places to visit are often the most sensitive to our impact. That's why we are empowering the REI community with the tools to make better choices, no matter where our travels lead us.

rei “I knew the water wasn’t safe,” says #NothingButFootprints ambassador @hannahbananas, “but I was going through two, three plastic bottles of water a day. It was the hottest month of the year in Morocco. I can’t believe I didn’t think to use a filter sooner.”

rei Meet @kellygreentravels, founder of Women for Global Wildlife. Kelly and her staff research the impact of safaris and wildlife tours around the world, so tourists can make informed decisions. “I love seeing how we make a difference... none of the work would matter if people didn’t care about the animals. We’ve seen hundreds of abusive elephant sanctuaries in Thailand disappear because there isn’t a market for them anymore.”

rei “My wife and I wouldn’t have known where to start on our own, but we fell in love with the idea of a bikepacking trip. Experiencing Croatia’s countryside like that was unreal - the reduced carbon footprint was just a bonus.” @michaelcalloway. Our REI Adventures are a spectacular way to gain Leave No Trace skills and see the world in a new light.
